who is an ardent supporter of the Pro-Annexation Club and a well wisher of the HAWAHAN STAR.

As a disclaimer of personal interest, allow me to state that, should the official guillotine fall upon the necks of those listed in the STAR of a recent date, it would decapitate no one with whom the writer has the privilege of personal friendship; neither, so far as known, would the change place in official posi tion any for whom the writer has aught but respect. Realizing the impossibility of political perfection while human nature remains unregenerate, ! still believe that he who seeks to mould public opinion from press or platform fails signally in his duty if he neglects to keep ever before the people the perfect standard. On that ensign the modern "spoils system" has no place. The Provisional Government can demand of each and every employee his signature to the oath of allegiance. If he is loyal to the spirit of that oath and properly attends to his duties, the Government can ask no more. They can no more demand membership in the Annexation Club than they can demand affiliation with the "Thompsonstreet Poker Club."

The Provisional Government lives in the present. The Annexation Club has hopes of a glorious future. Only bigotry could punish those who hold views on the advisability of a certain future existence which may be contrary to ours. The world holds no nobler sight than that of a man shouldering his gun and stepping manfully out to aid his country in its hour of darkness and peril. It would be prostituting the heritage of one, across whose cradle the deepening twilight cast the shadows of old Bunker Hill, to take one iota of praise from those who on the 17th of January displayed a personal courage and devotion to country which will ever furnish an heroic page on the annals of Hawaiian history.

History gives to the Anglo Saxon this noble heritage, that wherever in in the home land or in the islands of the sea a blow has been struck it has been a blow for freedom. And they have ever, in the face of tyranny, flaunted the banner of justice. Consequently, following old traditions, our citizen stepped forth that day and did his simple plain duty. Now to those of us whose ideas are a little old fashioned it seems despicable that such an one, following thus far instinct, which was heroic and noble, should take counsel with that which is rendered, guardianship eternal and entire. This movement of extirpation may be disguised as simple justice or that there are the outs who want to sacrifice private interest for public from drowning; to morrow he comes and demands an annuity. The Annexation Club is a noble institution founded by necessity and nurtured by patriotism. The country and the Gov ernment need its unqualified and magnanimous support. Let us hope that its management will not fall into the hands of a few ward politicians who will seek to make of it "Honolulu's Tammany."

For our country let us bury all petty present one mighty united chorus of harmony whose majestic chords shall resound even to that distant New England shore where they shall warm the blood and cheer the heart of the staunchest American who ever represented the home land in the Islands of the Southern sea.

NOT SPOILS BUT JUSTICE.

EDITOR STAR: The familiar motto, "to the victors belong the spoils," is expressing in condensed form all that is most dangerous and most vicious in party methods and political morals the good work up, Mr. Editor, and Stated in this way, the proposition is don't let up on it, and you will earn certainly open enough to criticism. the everlasting gratitude of the Annexa-Public office and government patrontion party, and especially of one of its age are not in any proper sense "spoils," and should not be so regarded or spoken of. This, any fair minded man is ready enough to admit at all times. "Spoils" means "plunder," something dishonestly or improperly obtained, either by force or fraud, and we are not dealing nor proposing to deal with anything of that kind. A great deal in this world depends, however, upon the way of putting things. The mass of dusty condition of Emma square. It may be put, for instance, thus: "A set of men or a party, responsible for the difficult and delicate wife, Thos. N. Datte, H. M. Whit sponsible for the difficult and delicate wife, Thos. N. This, instead of the essence of wickedness, appears to be the embodyment of both of essen-EDITOR HAWAIIAN STAR: Will you tial justice and practical common kindly listen to a word of regret at the sense. The application of this rule to present policy of your paper from one our own public affairs at the present time is what I understand the STAR to visional Government, a member of the be contending for, and I believe the great majority of the members of the Annexation Club, and of the friends of the Government generally, stand on substantially the same platform. So standing, their position is impregnable as a matter of logic as well as of policy. As I understand the matter, this i not in any sense a movement against the ministry. There is no question raised as to those gentlemen's personal ntegrity, their loyalty to the cause of unexation, or their general business qualifications. But there is a general feeling that in one important matter of administrative policy the Government s not up to the requirements of the times; is either ignorant of or does not sufficiently regard the opinions and

EDITOR STAR: The argument has been made, and most generally by those who are trying to do the "craw fishing" act, that the reason the Royalist element has not been cleaned ou f the various departments of the Pro visional Government is the lack of suitable material to supply their places. Is not this argument an insult to the ntelligence of the rank and file of the Annexation party in these Islands, and does it not show either a lamentable ignorance or a deliberate misstatement of the facts. There never was a vacancy in any position in any department in any government in the world that could not be filled at short notice. Suppose that every Royalist in both Government buildings was to be struck dead on the 2d of September, do you, Mr. Editor, or any one else mean to say that the vacancies would not be filled in a day or two, or a week at most? Of course they would. The truth of the matter, as I and other Annexationists understand it, is that the Government has made no effort to replace these officials, or if it has, it has only been among its own family circles. The whole policy of the Government in this matter has been dilatory, shillyshallying and weak-kneed. There has been too much of the old traditionary "You tickle me and I'll tickle you" business, and it is high time it was stopped and a new order of things adopted. There are any amount of base and sordid, and demand of the good and competent men in the An-Government, as a return for services nexation ranks, men able to fill any position in the gift of the Government, who would gladly take office and who would give better satisfaction than the public expediency, but the fact remains present Royalist incumbents. If they cannot be found through the smoked Net Indebtedness get in, and there are still a few of the glasses of our Executive Council they faithful who, if proper influence were can by a three line advertisement in brought to bear, would be willing to the STAR. Let the Government advertise for men to fill the place fice. To-day a man saves your child occupied by Chief Clerk Hassinger or Registrar of Accounts Smithies or the places occupied by the Clerk and deputy clerks of the Supreme Court and see how many applications would be received within twenty-four hours by men equally qualified and of experience both here and elsewhere. Why is it that such men as Judge Foster, and many others occupying positions requiring only a very small modicum of intelligence should be retained in an office which animosity and personal ambition and gives them the power to annoy and discriminate against their political enemies. Out upon such a system! It is time our Executive and Advisory Councils took a tumble to themselves and consulted the wishes of the party at large instead of their own personal preferences. If good men to take these offices cannot be found by advertising, or by any other means known to the Councils, they can be imported from the States. There are thousands of good, loyal American citizens in America who would be only too glad commonly regarded as embodying and to get a chance to boost a Reyalist. Let us give our fellow citizens a chance instead of feeding and fattening a lot of Royalists at their expense. Keep

THE KOHALA MAIL SERVICE.

The "Advertiser's" Correspondent is Wrong in His Criticisms.

An item in the Kohala correspondence of the morning paper has aroused Warrimoo(Van)A'g 31 Australia . . . Sept 6 the wrath of the post office authorities. The item reads:

"The mail service to Kohala seems to have called a halt. It is a sin and shame that our modest and long suf-Miowern(Van) Oct 21 fering population should have to wait Nov 4 ten days for a foreign mail after it has (Vn)Nov21 landed in Honolulu. It has often China Nov 28 been observed this most intelligent community has the worst mail service in the islands. If this kind of thing continues, we shall have to hire an old native with an out-rigger to bring our mail from Maui or some other favored place, as an improvement over present methods.

The STAR is authorized to say there s not an atom of truth in the above assertion. On the contrary the mail received by the Monowai last Friday was sent to Mahukona on Monday by the Claudine, which made a special trip for the purpose of carrying the inter-island mails. Furthermore there has never been an instance in which island mails have been detained ten days in Honoluly since the regular mail steamers commenced to run from San Francisco, the assertion of the Kohala correspondent to the contrary notwithstanding. In his connection it will probably be of interest to make the further statement hat the owners of the inter-island steamers receive no pay whatever for carrying the mails; and though the steamer officials are extremely obligng in the matter and often go out of heir way to stop at small ports for he express purpose of landing the mail, they have never been known to eccive anything for their accommodation but abuse.

A STRANGE CASE.

Agents Two Masked Men Make Their Way Through Ben Norton's House.

On Monday evening shortly after dusk Mrs. Ben Norton left her residence, which adjoins that of Mr. Wenner, for a short time, leaving the children in charge of a 16-year-old girl. Soon afterwards the front-door was opened and two masked men made their appearance. They hurriedly passed through the house and went out through the rear door. On their way through they overturned some articles of forn-ture. Two of the children, who came to the hall to see who the intruders were, were thrust aside with such violence as to throw them to the ground and hurt them severely. The screams of the children alarmed the neighb rs, who started in pursuit of the intruders who had disappeared in the dark slopes of Punchowl hill. The men were dressed in gunnysacks which nearly covered them, and wore masks of the same material.
